Terms of Assessment

A plain-language guide to what the Anveshan assessment is, and how to use it well. A focused companion to our full Terms of Use.

1 What Anveshan is

Anveshan is a developmental, self-discovery career assessment for students in Grades 10 and 11. It reflects a student's interests, strengths, personality, and reasoning, and suggests career directions that may suit them.

2 What Anveshan is not

It is not a clinical, psychological, or medical test, not a pass-or-fail or selection exam, and not a guarantee of any outcome, admission, or salary. Its results are guidance to explore, never instructions to follow. All decisions about study and career remain with the student and their family.

3 Honesty of results

Our matching is built on established frameworks and expert design, and is being validated over time as we gather real student data. We present results as strength-of-match bands rather than precise scores, and we openly report the reliability of each set of responses.

4 Taking it honestly

For a meaningful result, the assessment must be taken by the student themselves — honestly, without help or copying, and in a calm setting. There are no right or wrong answers; honesty is what makes the result truly yours.

5 Eligibility and consent

Anveshan is intended for students in the relevant grades. Students under 18 may take it only with the consent of a parent or guardian, given at registration.

6 Your report and the AI counsellor

After the assessment you receive a summary and, on unlocking, a full report. You may also talk to Disha, our AI career counsellor, who explains your report. Disha is a guidance aid — not a human counsellor, therapist, or professional adviser — and may not always be complete or correct. For anything serious, or beyond careers, please speak to a parent, teacher, or qualified professional.

7 Accuracy of information

Our report and Disha mention institutions, exams, courses, salary ranges, and opportunities as examples. These change over time, so please verify any such detail at the official source before relying on it.

8 Your result, and re-taking

Your result belongs to you and is for the personal use of the student and their family. People grow and change; a result is a snapshot of today, not a verdict for life, and the assessment may be taken again in future to see how you have grown.

9 Data

Your responses and result are handled as described in our Privacy Policy.

A mirror, not a verdict. It opens doors, and never closes them.
